VENERE

Bedroom

Refined and particular: this is how the Venere bedroom by Silik looks like. The headboard of the bed immediately demonstrates exclusivity and refined luxury. Venus presents the most popular shape of headboard, the imitation of a crown rising above the bed surface. The outer edge is made with decorative carvings, along the entire headboard there are articulated cuts.

Beds

The peculiarity of the Venere collection is immediately visible from main article of the room: the bed. There are four possible variants for this first article: with or without wooden footboard, with upholstered bed frame or with wooden panel, and with capitonné on the headboard. The four choices give the opportunity to find the right compromise for every aesthetic taste.

Night table

The night table with two drawers belonging to the Venere collection, but also to other collections, is simple, and elegant. Thanks to the slightly rounded top there is an appreciable three-dimensionality. The carvings are few, elegant and well distributed just to give this article a simple lightness.

Wardrobe

The wardrobe belonging to the Venere collection is sophisticated even if with restrained size. It is presented with two doors and an external drawer. The curls and various decorations, which form a kind of frame, have been designed to best recall the shapes of the bed and its details.
124 cm long still guarantees a great space worthy of a luxurious Silik style bedroom.

Bench-chair

The bench is a particular accessory that gives greater value to an environment such as the bedroom or, alternatively, a walk-in closet. Placed at the foot of the bed, in a corner or near a dressing table, the bench remains one of those main items to match all the collections. The finish and the fabric will make the real difference.
